Main Objectives

1. Skill Enhancement: Recognizing the importance of skill development, career guidance and placement cells offer training programs to enhance students' employability. These programs cover a wide array of skills including communication, problem-solving, leadership, and technical expertise, catering to the diverse needs of students across disciplines. Mock interviews, group discussions, and resume building workshops are also conducted to equip students with the necessary tools for success in the competitive job market.

2. Placement Assistance: One of the primary objectives of these cells is to facilitate placements for students nearing the completion of their academic journey. They act as liaisons between students and recruiters, coordinating placement drives, job fairs, and campus interviews. Career guidance and placement cells also provide guidance on resume writing, interview preparation, and career advancement, empowering students to make informed decisions and secure promising job opportunities.

3. Continuous Support: Career guidance and placement cells offer continuous support to students even after graduation. Alumni networking events, skill enhancement programs, and career counseling services.
